

We Stay. We Rebuild. We Remember.

Just hours after Iranian missile attacks, balconies across Israel told a quiet story of resilience: even with broken glass on the ground, the flag was hung, the plant was watered, and a window was opened to let in the light.

This illustration captures that instinctive response—a declaration that this is our home, and we will make it beautiful.